

Mrs. Jones Second Grade Language Arts

We have had a great first week of Second Grade! We have eased into being an author by completing a fill in the blank autobiography writing piece to get to know each other. These writings have been published to the hallway for others to read.

We have also practiced reading and training ourselves to 'think' about our reading as we read. Students used "Welcome Back!" an informational text to learn some new techniques and terms that we use when reading to comprehend. These papers should be in your child's folder.

We will begin working our way towards starting our regular routine next week. We do have a new reading textbook series and will be utilizing some different approaches to instructions for the multiple parts to Language Arts. We will be having grades in spelling, vocabulary, grammar, and reading comprehension. As we begin, I will slowly introduce different stations that will give both direct instruction as well as independent tasks and activities for students to have instruction, practice, and assessment of the objectives for second grade language arts.

Watch for the newsletters in the plastic pages for more detailed information.

